First Aid

If you saw an emergency, what would you do? Many people just panic. The victim often dies because people are afraid and don't know what to do. It is important to act quickly. Paramedics can take care of almost any emergency. So the first thing to do is to call for help. Tell the operator your complete address. Also tell her anything that can help the ambulance get to the emergency. So the first thing to do is to call for help. Tell the operator your complete address. Also tell her anything that can help the ambulance get to the emergency quickly.

You should also learn CPR. CPR is necessary if the victim's heart has stopped. It may take paramedics time to get to the emergency. That means only you can save the victim's life. CPR can help the victim breathe and get his or her heart beating again. But you must be careful. If the victim's ribs are broken, CPR may do more damage than good. These are only a few of the things you can do in an emergency.
