三、 閱讀測驗

As a young fellow, I was in a hurry to hit the top. Like a horse wearing blinders, I raced ahead seeing nothing but the finish line. The years flew by. I had fame, financial security and a devoted family. I raced on. I needed more success.

And one day it occurred to me how much I had missed! I thought of friends collected, and then neglected; of my library, full of books with uncut pages; of the first faltering steps of my little girls; of their tears I hadn't the chance to wipe away; of the bright sayings heard only from their mother over a phone; of the vacations promised to my wife and children. All these resulted from my mere vain pursuit of success!

Ever since that dawning of the truth, I have made it a point to pause now and again to enjoy the scenery. I have come to realize that by going too fast I have missed too much. And how fortunate I am to be able to be aware of the precious truth in time!

- 1、 The best title of the above passage could be
(A) The Way to Success
(B) Life Is More Than Success
(C) Sacrifice And Success
(D) Enjoyment of Success
- 2、 The main point of the passage is
(A) success is won at the cost of enjoyment of life.
(B) no pains, no gains.
(C) appreciation of life shouldn't be neglected in the course of pursuing success.
(D) success is not worth pursuing.
